Standard Search

Included in Standard Broker Package

The Standard package provides users with a straightforward search bar that helps refine their searches. You have the flexibility to personalize the city options, property type labels, and default price ranges, allowing you to customize the search experience on your website to align with the specific requirements of your market and business. The Standard search does have a map option, but unlike the Premium map, you cannot draw on it.

By default, the list that appears when clicking "View All" on the IDX Search page includes all the cities available from your MLS system(s). You can customize this list to better represent your market area.

When visitors first view the search form page, default property types, and default minimum and maximum prices, are already entered into the corresponding fields on the page. You can customize this default information so that it best matches the needs of your target audience. (Visitors can also change the minimum and maximum amounts when conducting a search.)

The screenshot displays a real estate search interface. At the top, there are filter buttons for Location, Status (1), Any Price, Beds & Baths, Property Type (2), More, and Save Search. Below the filters, there are tabs for LIST and MAP, and a result count of 959. The results are sorted by PRICE DESC. The page shows a grid of nine property listings, each with a photo, price, and basic details. A yellow circle with the number '1' is positioned above the first listing, with a line pointing to the search bar area.

Premium Search

Included in Premium Broker Package

With Eureka search from iHomefinder, agents can now offer site visitors search experiences that rival Zillow and many other consumer search portals.

Map Search Center: address will default to your company address, however if you wish to change it, you can enter a new city or postal code to re-center the map.

Map Search Type: allows you to choose between satellite, hybrid, or terrain as your default view.

Draw on Map: allows visitors to use a polygon search - you can toggle this feature on this page.

When a Custom City List is turned on for your account, visitors will see that list of cities when they click into the Location field on any search. This is a great way to highlight the areas you serve and to make searching easier for your clients.
